WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

This learning experience will be especially useful to direct support workers, case support workers, teachers, teacher aides, residential support, day service providers, and anyone in a support or caregiver role.

ABOUT DR. DAVID PITONYAK

David specializes working with individuals who have been said to exhibit "difficult behaviours" and, in most cases, David believes what underlies the behaviour is a sense of feeling grossly misunderstood, devalued by others, lonely, powerless, devoid of opportunity, and without the kinds of educational experiences that most of us take for granted. David sees "behaviour" as a "message" which can tell us important things about a person and the life they are living. David consults across Canada, the United States, the United Kingdom and the Netherlands.
